THE ART OF HIFI

SOUND IS SACRED

sound stretches time,
drenches silence,
teaching space to feel.

OBEN surpasses the conventions of traditional high-fidelity speakers, offering a sound quality that feels startlingly alive. Many listeners are moved to tears upon first listening to our speakers, describing it as though they are experiencing their favorite song for the first time.

More than speakers, each OBEN system is a sculptural presence, a museum-grade instrument that fuses art and sound into one. Handcrafted in Los Angeles by two artists, every piece is created in limited editions or 1 of 1 commissioned works, designed to inhabit space as both an object of beauty and a vessel for music, each one a sculptural object of raw power and spatial resonance.

Our speakers are built to inhabit a space, shape it, and elevate it.

Not just heard, but lived with.

Not just seen, but felt.

Not just owned, but remembered.

Where conventional audio ends with performance, OBEN begins with presence, sound that surpasses even the most revered systems, alive in the room and felt as much as heard.

The advantages of our sound are immediate and undeniable:

Clarity & Coherence – Every note is delivered from a single source, without crossovers or competing equipment. The result is seamless, unified sound.

Accuracy & Realism – With no electronic filtering, tonality remains pure and lifelike, as if the music arrives untouched.

Imaging & Soundstage – Because all frequencies radiate from one point, the stereo image becomes holographic – precise, dimensional, and enveloping.

Transparency & Efficiency – Fewer components mean less loss, more presence, and a direct connection to the artist's intent.

WHAT OBEN DOES

For collectors, creators, and those who listen with intention, OBEN creates sculptural speakers that are conceived and treated as artworks.

Every OBEN work is treated as an artwork, catalogued with a unique serial number to ensure provenance.

We offer serialized Limited Collections, where no two are alike but all belong to a defined series, and fully commissioned one-of-one pieces created in direct collaboration with a Patron.

This is not plug-and-play.

This is precision, presence, and permanence.

The Callisto Series draws its name from the celestial, its carved façade echoing the cratered terrain of distant moons while grounding itself in architectural rhythm. Its domed geometry recalls Brutalist monuments softened into an organic, tactile pattern – a balance of cosmic vastness and human craft.

MANE

Mane is a sculptural pair of acoustic totems – cloaked in lush, tactile fibers that blur the line between the natural and the surreal. Each form rests on alloy-silver legs crowned with natural gemstone spheres, grounding its presence in strength and ritual. Chrome-ringed drivers radiate with clarity and force, while the fur-like surface softens its scale. Mane is wild yet refined – primal energy harnessed into elegance, a statement pair that transforms untamed texture into sound embodied.

O BEN BEGINNINGS

O BEN was born in Los Angeles, an offering from two design-obsessed minds who believe sound is sacred and art is alive.

Most speakers are engineered. O BEN was conjured by artists who know that beauty belongs in every dimension. These art objects are born from working artists who bring deep creative integrity to both sound and form. With practices that span sculptural design, immersive environments, and high-fidelity sound, their work carries a rare fluency across both sonic and physical space. One half of the duo is signed to Roc Nation, bringing an intimate understanding of music at the highest level. Together, they shape every detail, every curve, every frequency by hand and by vision. The result is an object that dissolves the line between sound and sculpture – an experience as technical as it is emotional, as spatial as it is spiritual. O BEN is the rare place where both creators give every part of themselves – as artists and designers – to shape something wholly alive.

Art and music are the foundation of culture. They shape how societies see themselves, deepen connection, and remind us of what it means to be human.

OBEN works move people emotionally the moment they are heard, while holding long-term cultural value as collectible artworks.

At a time when people seek experiences that feel deeply human, OBEN opens a new category: living works of art that shape space with sound, presence, and meaning.

born from our hands, belonging to no one—

these forms are vessels for time,
for beauty, for healing, for what you choose to remember.

every vibration is a new beginning.
every silence, a return.
